

The Vocative Case

Vocabulary: The Vocative Case

There are five major Latin noun cases (Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative, and Ablative), and the Vocative case is used occasionally. This case is used when directly speaking to someone.

Practice

1. Why are you all angry, friends?
2. You are not working, Horatia.
3. We are walking to the market, Quintus.
4. I am tired, Scintilla.
5. I am not listening, Flaccus.
6. Dinner is ready, girls.
7. You all ought to be in school , Quintus and Horatia.